TIME UNDERGROUND RAILROAD

A RECORD OF Facts, Narrating the Hardships

Hair-Breadth Escapes, and Death Struggles of the Slaves in their Efforts for Freedom. BY WILLIAM STILL.

For many years connected with the Anti-Slavery Office in Philadelphia, and Chairman of the Acting Vigilant Committee of the Philadelphia Branch of the Underground Railroad. Illustrated with 70 fine Engravings by Bensell, Schell, and others, and Portraits from Photographs from Life.

From a great number of cardial letters com-

graphs from Life.

From a great number of cordial letters commending the Underground Railroad, the Anthor selects a few brief extracts only from eminent friends of Freedom who have examined the Work.
From Wm. Lloyd Garrison:
I have examined it with a deep and thrilling interest. It is a most important portion of Anti-Slavery history. Its reliableness, moreover, cannot be called in question. It is a book for every household.

Natices of the Press.

The model newspaper of our country. Complete in all the departments of an American Family Paper, Harper's Weekly has earned for itself a right to its title, "A JOURNAL OF CIVILIZATION."—New Fork Evening Post."

The best publication of its class in America, and so far ahead of all other weekly journals as not to permit of any comparison between it and any of their number. Its columns contain the finest collections of reading matter that are printed. * * Its illustrations are numerous and beautiful, being furnished by the chief artist of the country.—Boston Traveler.

Harper's Weekly is the best and most interesting illustrated newspaper. Nor does its value depend on its illustrations alone. Its reading matter is of a high order of literary merit—varied, instructive, entertaining, and unexceptionable.—N. Y. Sun.

SUBSCRIPTIONS—1872. From S. P. Chase, Chief Justice of U. S. Supreme Court:
No one probably has had equal opportunities with yourself of listening to the narratives of figuive slaves. No one will repeat them more truthfally, and no stories can be more fraught with interest than Illeirs.

From J. M. McKim A book so unique in kind, so startling in in terest, and so trustworthy in its statements, cannot fail to command a large reading now, and in generations yet to come.

From Hon. Henry Wilson, Vice President:

The Underground Raircad has performed its particle with the control of the stern struggle through which we have passed. I hope your labors will be rewarded by a grateful public.

From Hon. Charles Summer:

The Underground Railroad has performed its part, but it must always be remembered gratefully, as one of the peculiar institutions of our country. I cannot think of it without a throbbing heart.

You do well to commemorate those associated with it by service or by benefit—the saviours and the saved.

HARPER & BROTHERS,
New York. From Horace Greeley:

For most of the years I have lived, the escape of fugitives from slavery, and their efforts to ballle the human and other bloodhounds who tracked them, formed the romance of American History. That romance is now ended, and our grandchildren will hardly believe its leading incidents except on irresistible testimony. I rejoice that you are collecting and presenting that testimony, and heartily wish you a great success.

From Wm. H. Furness, D.D.:
Having rend this record of "The Underground Railroad," I can only say that it is a work of extraordinary interest and of great value as an illustration of the terrible despotism, which a little while ago reigned over as all, and which is now (thank heaven!) no more.

There are few intelligent American families in which Harper's Magazine would not be an appreciated and highly welcome guest. There is no nonthly magazine an intelligent reading family can less afford to be without. Many magazine are accumulated. Harper's is edited. There is not a magazine that is printed which shows more intelligent pains expended on its articles and mechanical execution. There is not a cheaper magazine published. There is not, confessedly, a more popular magazine in the world.—New England Homestead.

A repository of biography and history, literature, science, and art, unequalled by any other American publication. * * * The volumes are as valuable as a mere work of reference as any cyclopedia we can place in our libraries. Harper's Magazine is a record of travel everywhere since the hour of its establishment. Livingstone and Gordon Camming in Africa, Strain among the Andes and Ross Browne in the East, Speke on the Nile and Magregor on the Jordan—indeed, all recent travelers of note have seen their most important discoveries reproduced in these pages. Most of our younger and many of our older writers find here their literary biography. Our artists see the best evidences of their genius, and the most enduring specimens of their work in the Magazine.—N. Y. Stand and I. I are the public attention.

It is really the only illustrated chronicler of fashion in this country. Its supplements alone are worth the subscription price of the paper. The Bazar is excellent. Like all the periodicals which the Harpers publish, it is most ideally well edited, and the class of readers for whom it is intended—the mothers and daughters in average families—cannot but profit by its good sense and good taste, which, we have no doubt, are to-day making very many homes happier than they may have been before the women began taking lessons in personal and household and social management from this good natured mentor.—The Nation, N.Y.
